General information for divers:

Participants of a Liveaboard trip have to be certified divers, who are capable to dive autonomously and self dependent with their dive buddy. You have to bring your diver's certificate, your logbook and a medical certificate. Instructions from the dive guide and the boat crew have to be followed and kept closely by all means. Common Diving depths and dive times have to be maintained. Participation on a dive travel is conveyed on everybody's own risk. Neither the organizer nor the Travel guidance can be held responsible for accidents, delays and other unforeseeable incidents. We also are not taking over responsibility for the diving luggage! If it's transported too late by the airline or gets lost at the airport or during the dive safari. All details regarding diving route are non-binding, cause the final route can only be decided on site after weather conditions and diving capabilities of participants. Furthermore for certain reefs and diving areas special permits are demanded, which can change every time and sometimes even very shortly and on which we have no influence. The minimum number of participants is 10 persons! Dockyard periods, necessary reparings or other unforeseeable circumstances can make the use of another boat of the same value necessary! Likewise we also reserve the right to book the first or last night in a middle-class hotel in Hurghada or Marsa Alam, if the ship has to be transferred from one port to another. We will send you a booking confirmation with a payment form for deposit and final payment within the next days by post.
